UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA HEALTH SYSTEM
Department of Rehabilitation Medicine

L. Matthew Schwartz, M.D., FAAPM&R
Clinical Assistant Professor of Rehabilitation Medicine
Musculoskeletal Medicine / Pain Management / Cancer Rehabilitation

March 26, 2003

Dear Mr. Sessions,

As a member of Physicians for Social Responsibility and The Union of Concerned Scientists, I am an informed consumer.

Docket No. LS-02-02 which permits industrial meat farms to claim "no Antibiotic residue", "not fed antibiotics," and "grass fed" should NOT be supported. It is misleading to consumers, unfair to organic farmers (the real McCoys), and affords undeserved distinction to industrial farms.

This effort would be one which shows the desire to "dress up" industrial farmers to appear as though they follow the safer and more costly practices as the true/high-quality organic farmers. This faulty advertising would shut down the smaller competitors who truly provide the bona fide superior product. If industrial farmers wish to be organic farmers - they should in fact DO what it takes to make a safer/healthier product. Scruples. Let's see the industry show some. Please!

Respectfully, L M Schwartz MD

5 West Gates • 3400 Spruce Street • Philadelphia, PA 19104-4283 • 215-349-8515 • FAX: 215-349-8944