With input from worldwide users of its website, the Market News Branch has added some new Web-based services to this website and reorganized how Market News reports are arranged. Your input as a customer and user continues to be very important to us. Sending us your suggestions will help to ensure that users of this site can access the market information they need.

Simply type your message in the space provided below. Once finished, press the "Submit by Email" button to transmit. The sender's e-mail address is masked by the Internet, so if you expect a reply, please include your name and return e-mail address with your message. All suggestions will be kept strictly confidential, unless otherwise requested.

Letters can also be mailed to the following street address:
