

AMS Additional Guidance for exports of egg and egg product for Mexico –

Additional Documents Required by Mexican Import Officials under Article 89 of the Animal Health Law.

AMS has received several inquiries concerning additional information such as lot numbers, production and shipping date, and best before dates on items related to egg and egg food products. AMS has been informed by the government of Mexico that this information should be provided on company letterhead and must be signed by the owner, company president, quality control manager, or someone in a similar position. The document must refer back to the AMS certificate number (found in top left corner of AMS export certificate). This will provide the linkage between the company letter, AMS export certificate, and the product. The Mexican officials have stated that product presented at a port of entry without the referenced information will be refused entry.
