Agenda

- Review February 13, 2024 notes
- Review Workflow
- Discuss Upcoming Semester
- Additional Items
- Adjourn

Discussion

- February 13, 2024 notes were accepted with a correction to the bullet on organic transition. The CACS will discuss/clarify the scoping of this project at the next Executive call meeting.
- Review Workflow.
 - The group discussed the list of projects for the Spring meeting, and the items that will remain on the work agenda for the Fall. The CACS will use the next call to plan the roadmap for the next year.
 - Members agreed that having an outline for documents prior to drafting a discussion document or proposal could be helpful.
 - The NOSB Chair added that it's important to remember that members have different expertise and varying levels of background knowledge and it's important to give people time to read the documents before having to vote on them.
- Discuss Upcoming Semester.
 - The Chair discussed inviting speakers to future CACS calls, and will be more cognizant of timing, so it doesn't disrupt the workflow and due dates.
 - Members were invited to share feedback and thoughts on the workflow and process. Members noted that sharing goals and outcomes of projects is important, so everyone is on the same page. Additionally, being iterative and providing updates as projects evolve are important. Another member shared ideas for coordinating and cross-collaboration between Subcommittees. A third member mentioned that CACS could benefit from this approach since it works on projects that often incorporate opinions and gray areas. He also added that "caucusing" is a good idea, as long as it involves all the Subcommittee members, to minimize confusion and miscommunication.
 - The CACS Chair highlighted the importance of having an Organic Policy Advisor at USDA. Many of the CACS work agenda items are complex and would benefit from having someone at the USDA who could share them across offices.
 - The group discussed the Food Technologists and are interested in getting a status update. The lead author recommended that members re-read the Fall 2022 NOSB recommendation and would like to have a broader conversation about the process, and ways to improve it. The group will also start developing more work requests for Food Technologists. The CACS will continue discussing this at its next meeting.
- Additional Items. None.
- The meeting was adjourned.

Discussion

- February 6, 2024 notes were modified and approved by the Subcommittee.
- Climate Induced Farming Risk and Crop Insurance discussion document (ADB for CD/AJ). The CACS Chair recapped the recent conversations the Subcommittee members had, and the revisions to the original discussion document. The CACS moved to a vote and will present the discussion document to the full Board at the April 2024 meeting.

Motion to accept the discussion document on Climate Induced Farming Risk and Crop Insurance

Motion by: ADB

Seconded by: NL

Yes: 6 No: 0 Abstain: 1 Recuse: 0 Absent: 1

- Improving Support for Organic Transition proposal (AJ). The lead presented the draft document, noting the updates since the last CACS meeting. The NOP and CACS discussed various aspects such as the role of the NOSB, the ultimate goal for this document, who the audience(s) is/are, how NOP would implement the recommendations, what the best format would be, and how it could be successful. The lead noted that the document contains aspects that are already being carried out in the TOPP program, and highlighted that the Organic Transition Initiative (OTI) is a bigger umbrella. The CACS is seeking to collect public input, so it can convey stakeholder feedback to the USDA in an effort to improve the feedback loop among different agencies, such as NOP, NRCS, FSA, etc. This role would typically belong to the USDA Organic Policy Advisor, however, that position is currently vacant. The NOSB Chair asked if the document would be better framed as a letter to the Secretary? Members suggested minor edits, and the CACS moved to a vote.

- Residue Testing for a Global Supply Chain discussion document (NL/ADB/NPP/KH). The lead provided a brief summary of the document and the CACS moved to a vote on the discussion document. The lead will finalize the document and send it to the NOP for the Spring meeting.

Motion to accept the discussion document on Residue Testing for a Global Supply Chain

Motion by: NL

- Organic Food System Capacity and Constraints discussion document (NPP for CD). The group discussed the current version of the document and questions to stakeholders, and made minor edits. The NOP reminded the group of the work agenda scoping request. The CACS moved to a vote and will finalize the document and send it to the NOP for the Spring meeting.

Discussion

- The January 23, 2024 notes were approved with no changes.
- Climate Induced Farming Risk and Crop Insurance discussion document (CD). The document was originally a proposal, and the CACS has decided to put it forth as a discussion document for the Spring meeting instead. The group spent the call discussing and debating the scope and goals of the crop insurance project. A representative from the Risk Management Agency (RMA) spoke at the Fall 2023 NOSB meeting and noted that the current program is not well suited to assist organic producers, and the NOSB is in a better position to translate the needs of organic farmers specifically. Several members made suggestions for how to move this document forward. One member suggested splitting the document in two: one with the interview data, and one with recommendations to RMA. The CACS will review and vote on the documents on the next call.
- Improving Support for Organic Transition (AJ). Deferred to next call.
- Residue Testing for a Global Supply Chain (ADB/NPP/NL/KH). Deferred to next call. The Residue testing document will be a discussion document rather than a proposal.

Discussion

- January 9, 2024 notes were accepted as written.
- Residue Testing for a Global Supply Chain (ADB/NPP/NL/KH). The lead summarized the current iteration of the document which focuses on residue testing as it relates to the rollout of the Strengthening Organic Enforcement (SOE) rule. The document proposes suggestions for sampling and testing, and the co-leads are seeking information about adverse actions, which they may incorporate into the document as appropriate. In this document, they are not proposing to change the regulations or handbook. The co-leads are meeting with NOP staff from the Compliance and Enforcement Division next week at the Accredited Certifiers Association (ACA) training to talk about the proposal and explore ideas. Members discussed various aspects of the proposal and offered ideas for consideration. Topics included: Not making things unnecessarily complex for certifiers; potential unintended consequences; the possibility of adding a training module to the Organic Integrity Learning Center; the need to keep in mind that we have a global supply chain; and the need to be mindful and methodical; and that this dovetails with the Strengthening Organic Enforcement (SOE) and the Transition to Organic Partnerships Program (TOPP). The CACS will finalize the proposal on the February 6 call.
- Organic Food System Capacity and Constraints (formerly Market Development) (CD). The lead introduced the draft discussion document, in which the Subcommittee asks the community to provide feedback about infrastructure and marketplace challenges in the organic food system. The ultimate goal is to provide suggestions for areas of research to the Economic Research Service that would support and promote organic markets and future market development grants.
- Climate Induced Farming Risk and Crop Insurance (CD). Deferred to next call.
- Additional Items. None.
- The meeting was adjourned.

Discussion

- December 12, 2023 notes were accepted as written.
- Guest Speaker - Kate Mendenhall (OFA): Equity and Racial Justice in Organic Transition; Ryann Monteiro (OFA). Kate and Ryann provided an update about the Transition to Organic Partnership Program (TOPP) program, and what the central tenants are for racial diversity, identifying systemic racism, and barriers to organic transition & certification, acknowledging geographic barriers, and a country that is culturally and regionally diverse. Ryann added that racial equity and BIPOC (black, indigenous, and other people of color) are not the same. The 2022 Organic Farmers Association (OFA) report contains much of the information presented today, and the 2023 report will be available soon. <https://organicfarmersassociation.org/dei/>
Both Kate and Ryann fielded questions from the CACS members, and the group discussed topics such as how to improve the process for certification, and how to expand the tent while still maintaining the integrity of the organic certificate. A member asked about NOSB's role, given that the OFPA directs the NOSB to engage with certified operations and operators, and they aren't really positioned to solve issues with barriers to certification. A member suggested that giving voice to the issues could be helpful. Another member added that the organic industry and advocates, who are in a position to influence legislation might be in a stronger position. The group also discussed availability of resources, looking at grower groups as a potential model for resource sharing, market risk, building institutional knowledge and expertise in technical support, and international models, such as Denmark, who uses an integrated model for organic agriculture.
- Improving Support for Organic Transition (AJ). The lead circulated a draft in December, and will integrate some of the information from today's discussion into the next iteration, which will be discussed again in February.
- Climate Induced Farming Risk and Crop Insurance (CD). Deferred to next call.
- Residue Testing for a Global Supply Chain (ADB/NPP/NL/KH). Deferred to next call.

- Organic Food System Capacity and Constraints (formerly Market Development) (CD) updated work agenda request. The CACS Chair submitted the work agenda request to the NOP and is awaiting a response about whether it is approved. Given the timeline, the CACS may not have time to work on this for the Spring meeting. Members had a brief discussion about the goal of the document. A member feels that it is within the scope of the NOSB to identify important topics that the USDA and Economic Research Service could work on that would benefit organic stakeholders.
- Additional Items. None.
- The meeting was adjourned.
