

When a cow is managed organically during the last third of her gestation and gives birth to an organic calf, can she nurse her calf even though her milk would not be considered organic?

Yes. She can nurse her own calf as long as she is managed organically.

e-CFR