

Is this true? “If the term organic is only in the list of ingredients and not found anywhere else on the package, then there is no required percentage for organic ingredients in the product, and any non-organic ingredient may be GMO.”

If the product is not certified, and the total organic content of the product is below 70 percent, and organic ingredients are only listed in the ingredients statement, then yes—nonorganic ingredients may contain GMO.

e-CFR