

What minimum percentage of organic ingredients must appear on the front of a package?

There is no “required” percentage that must be displayed on the front of a package. However, in order to label on the principal display panel of a product, the minimum content of a product must be at least 70 percent in order to use the “made with organic (ingredients)” label. To label “organic” on the principal display panel, the minimum content must be at least 95 percent organic.
