

I want the USDA to withdraw the proposed organics regulations, rewrite them so that they are in accordance with the Organic Food Production Act (1990) and NOSB National List recommendations, and resubmit them for public comment. I don't want my organic food to be genetically engineered, fertilized with sewage sludge or irradiated. I also don't support the feeding of animal parts and manure to livestock and the intensive confinement of livestock as an organic practice. I support small organic farmers and certifiers and I think the ~~flat~~ fee causes them to bear a disproportionate burden of administrative costs. Finally, I support the existence of "green" labels and don't think they should be prohibited.
