The whey protein concentrate 34% (WPC 34%) price range and mostly series moved higher on all fronts. Contacts continue to share light WPC 34% production activity. Domestic spot demand, too, remains light. Some processors note demand has been light enough to the point inventories have recovered somewhat from recent weeks. Liquid whey availability is growing alongside seasonal increases in milk production and cheese manufacturing, but production foci remain on WPC 80% and whey protein isolate.
