Compared to last week: Prices remained steady over all regions with moderate demand. According to the Crop Progress Report May 10 2021, In Tulare County, warm weather was drying up rotational crops. Most winter grain fields had reached full maturity. Winter grain silage harvesting was ramping up. Alfalfa was being mowed and baled for sale. Weed control was a priority as temperatures rose and days became longer. Cotton and field corn sprouted and were being irrigated. In the Central Valley, dryland wheat crop was being cut for hay. Rice planting continued as drought conditions were reported for all rice producing counties.
