Compared to last week alfalfa, grass hay in the Central part of the state sold steady. Cane hay sold steady to 5.00 higher. Good large squares of alfalfa sold steady to 5.00 higher in the Western side of the state. Ground and delivered and dehy pellets sold steady. Demand improved this week. Many contacts state the phone have been busy and callers bought some hay. Some hay staying in the local market where it is produced but most is going to out of state buyers. Buyers from the "front range" in Colorado have been very aggressive in procuring NE hay for winter feeding needs. Some feedlot still cutting silage, other have moved to high moisture corn. Some reports of dryland soybeans, corn and edible bean getting combined this week. Many continue to hope that a nice general rain will go across the state to clear the air and ground of dusty conditions. Few, reports of the smoke in the air this week from states west of Nebraska as producers thinks it hinders the dry down of hay on the ground.
