Present: Kathryn Deschenes (KD), Chair; Cat McCluskey (CM), Vice Chair Allison Johnson (AJ); Amanda Felder (AF)

Absent: Heather Kumar (HK)

Agenda

- Review July 14, 2026 notes
- Residue Testing for a Global Supply Chain: Regulation Review (§205.670 and UREC definition) (KD) - discuss
- Additional items
- Adjourn

Discussion

- July 14, 2026 notes were accepted as written.
- Residue Testing for a Global Supply Chain: Regulation Review (§205.670 and UREC definition) (KD).
The group talked about how to move forward with the residue testing document. Given that the certifier seat is currently vacant, and the proposal aspect regarding downstream notification would benefit from certifier input, the group is leaning towards holding this until that seat is filled. Members also discussed options such as removing the downstream notification part of the proposal, given that it was the part that was identified by commenters at the Spring 2026 meeting as problematic and the Subcommittee does not have clear direction on how to resolve the issue. The lead will make the changes, and the CACS will vote on the document on the next call.
- Additional items.
 - The Consistency in Organic Seed Use document is in progress, and the lead will send it to the members soon so they can discuss and vote on it on the next call. A member added that an industry group continues to engage with farmers and retailers about organic seed use, and there is shared desire to move this project forward. The co-leads will touch base off-line to complete the discussion document.
- The meeting was adjourned

Agenda

- Review March 10, 2026 notes
- Consistency in Organic Seed Use discussion document (AJ/CM)
- Additional items
- Adjourn

Discussion

- March 10, 2026 notes are approved.
- Consistency in Organic Seed Use (AJ/CM)
 - One of the co-leads shared a first draft of a discussion document for the Fall 2026 meeting that explores possible changes to NOP Guidance 5029 that could work towards increasing availability and use of organic seed.
 - One of the topics is about the time horizon for producers to conduct searches for organic seed, and ways that producers can plan farther ahead or take other actions that could increase likelihood of finding organic seed in the future. The members discussed challenges of enforcing such requirements and the pro/cons of the impacts on small/medium/large producers versus the benefit of moving the needle on organic seed use, and the impacts in produce versus grains sectors.
 - Another topic is about handlers that require contract producers to use a certain seed, and if the processor's OSP should address the seed commercial availability. The Subcommittee discussed challenges when the producer and handler have different certifiers, and how to close the loop through better communication between certifiers or using affidavits. The Subcommittee plans to look at past comments submitted on the question on contract production submitted at prior meetings.
 - Lastly, the Subcommittee discussed the possibilities of certifiers submitting data to NOP, although there may be challenges with data being readily accessible.
 - Next steps: The Subcommittee will continue discussion at the next Subcommittee meeting in June, and will incorporate learnings from the Seed Panel at the Spring 2026 Meeting.
- Additional items
 - Spring 2026 Meeting prep
 - Seed Panel - invited speakers have confirmed attendance. Subcommittee will develop questions in advance, so speakers have time to prepare.
 - Stakeholder feedback so far on the Residue Testing proposal indicates there may be concerns about the downstream notification part of the proposal. Will review comments and discuss at Spring meeting.
- The meeting was adjourned

Agenda

- Review February 10, 2026 notes
- Guest speakers - OTA Seed Task Force
- Consistency in Organic Seed Use (AJ/CM)
- Additional items
- Adjourn

Discussion

- February 10, 2026 notes were approved as written.
- Guest speakers - OTA Seed Task Force. The CACS hosted several guest speakers from the Organic Trade Association (OTA) Seed Task Force: Adrienne Shelton (Enza Zaden / Vitalis Organic Seeds, Co-chair OTA seed task force), Chelsey Leczyk (Bejo Seeds, Co-chair of OTA seed task force), and Scott Rice (OTA staff and former NOSB member).

The guest speakers presented information about the OTA Seed Task Force composition and activities. The task force is made up of 15 members, and includes certifiers, seed growers, seed breeders, crop producers, and advocates of US organic production. It has been meeting monthly since Summer 2024 to provide comments in response to NOSB's current work agenda item to support organic seed usage. The speakers presented information about the current challenges with the organic seed regulations and provided updates on the task force's activities over the past year. The task force has studied and collected data for about a year, and presented 4 case studies about seed use, which they included in their Fall 2025 public comments to the NOSB: <https://www.regulations.gov/comment/AMS-NOP-25-0034-0083>.

The speakers described the challenges of accessing data on the usage of conventional seed in organic systems, by acreage, crop type, and variety. They also presented data from a survey they conducted with the Accredited Certifiers Association, assessing the data certifiers collect from their certified operations regarding conventional seed use exemption requests.

With regard to the 2018 & 2019 NOSB recommendations, they noted that the recommendations didn't quite get to a solution, so perhaps it will require more regulatory language. For example, there needs to be clarity on how to measure "full compliance," as stated in the 2018 NOSB recommendation, given that 100% organic seed usage is not realistic.

Lastly, the task force members offered suggestions as to what the next NOSB seed proposal could look like, including additional regulatory language to complement the 2018 recommendation; data collection; approaching seed usage requirements based on specific crops, regions, and operation types; investigating the development of a seed availability resource through a public-private partnership, using risk-based seed use requirements for handlers, and the development of crop expert groups to determine feasibility of organic seed usage. Following the presentation, CACS members asked various questions of the speakers about the role of handlers, how to increase availability, how to address demand from farmers and consumers, and whether the Strengthening Organic Enforcement (SOE) rule could help provide visibility on seed usage and supply chains.

- Consistency in Organic Seed Use (AJ/CM). The CACS will likely produce a discussion document for the Fall 2026 meeting. The lead intends on having a rough draft for the April 2026 CACS call.
- Additional items. None.
- The meeting was adjourned.

Discussion

- December 9, 2025 notes were approved as written.
- Residue testing (§205.670 and UREC definition) draft proposal (KS/ADB). The leads provided background information about the project, and noted that the co-leads will present the discussion document at the January 2026 NOSB meeting, and have also developed a draft proposal for the Spring meeting, which they will discuss at the full Board meeting. The proposal was modified to include public comments collected in the Fall, prior to the meeting being rescheduled. Given that the co-leads are both completing their NOSB tenure shortly after the meeting, they wanted to move this forward before leaving. The group reviewed the text of the proposal and made suggestions for minor modifications.
- Consistency in Organic Seed Use discussion doc (AJ/CD/CM). Deferred to future call.
- Additional items. The CACS added a call on January 23 to finalize the residue testing proposal.
- The meeting was adjourned.
