ABOUT THIS FORM

Get a Dollar or Get a Document! This expression has been used by the Beef Industry as a simple answer to an often asked question. Every buyer is responsible for getting either a dollar or a document from a seller. We all understand that when ownership of a bovine animal changes, a $1 is due for beef promotion and research. In some instances, however, a document is accepted in place of the $1. This document is the “Certification of Non-Producer Status” form.

The “Certification of Non-Producer Status” form is to be used only by someone RESELLING cattle that they have purchased and held not longer than 10 days. This RESELLER is considered to be a non-producer, and, therefore, exempt from the checkoff on this transaction. This form is used to certify the number of head sold and whether or not the reseller was required to collect a checkoff $1 when he/she purchased these cattle.

As the RESELLER you are responsible for filling in this form with the number of head of cattle being resold, the actual date of the sale, your name or company name, tax ID number, your complete address. Completed information on the buyer should also be filled in. Check the appropriate box certifying that when you purchased the cattle, you either collected the checkoff $1, received a non-producer status form, or bought cattle in a transaction in which you were not responsible for collecting the checkoff (auction market or brand inspector collected). For the form to be acceptable to the buyer, ALL of this information must be completed and the form must be signed.

THIS FORM MUST BE SIGNED BY THE RESELLER IN ORDER TO BE VALID.
