Basis will be the average of the daily CME closing prices to determine a weekly close of the nearest CME futures contracts for lean hogs and subtract the CME average from weekly cleaned up cost of market hogs for the same time period, at the packer facility. The corresponding weeks for the most recent three-year period will be averaged to produce a monthly basis. A factor of $\frac{1}{4}$ of one standard deviation will be added to the value used for each week of the month. The simple average of the most recent 36-month basis calculations will be the Basis.

Floor Price will be calculated monthly by seller. Floor Price derived from COP schedule.

Base Price = CME Price + Basis If Base Price converted to live price < Floor Price, then

Final Price = Floor Price If Base Price converted to live price > Floor Price but < Floor

Price + $5, then Final Price = Base Price If Base Price converted to live price > Floor

Price + $5 and there the accrual account balance is not negative, then Final Price = 93%

Base Price See Schedule: 60

Limit on Ledger: If the maximum accrual account amount has been reached, the seller will receive the Base Price. The maximum balance is $9,000,000. Interest will be accrued at the 3-month Libor rate as reported in the Wall Street Journal plus 400 basis points. If the Base Price converted to live price > Floor Price, Base Price - Floor Price is accumulated in the accrual account. If the Base Price converted to live price > Floor Price + $5, then 7% Base Price is accumulated in the accrual account; If the Base Price converted to live price < Floor Price, Base Price - Floor Price * Total Live Hundred Weight will be applied to the accrual account. If the maximum negative amount has been reached, the seller will receive the Base Price. At the end agreement any amount, with interest, that has been accrued in the accrual account shall be repaid by the owing party within 10 days after such termination, unless arrangements are made to repay through continues deliveries.
