C. Statement Of Work

- 1. Scope of Work: To address risks inherent with shipping U.S. food aid to overseas destinations, the Government is seeking to contract with a marine cargo survey company to attend, witness, and examine food cargoes, document the count and condition of these food aid shipments and activities related to disposition, and provide a written report. We are seeking an experienced survey firm with a proven performance record conducting like work. The survey reports issued by the Contractors will be used by the Government to fix responsibility for loss and damage to the food aid. Please note that the discharge location and final delivery location may be in two different countries. Services are required based on the country of final destination.
- 2. Background: The Agricultural Marketing Services procures staple foods for use in various international food aid programs administered by the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID). The food is purchased in bulk and packaged form and transported overseas by ocean carriers to discharge ports or foreign inland destinations for delivery to Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO), Private Voluntary Organizations (PVO), or foreign governments. Given the inherent nature of transporting bulk and packaged food long distances by sea and overland in foreign nations, there is a potential for loss or damage. To address this risk, a marine cargo survey is performed for each food aid shipment during unloading at the foreign destination.

The products subject to marine cargo discharge/delivery survey service include dry staple foods such as rice, peas, beans, and lentils; dry blended foods such as wheat-soy blend and corn-soy blend; and vegetable oil type products. This food aid is typically packaged in polypropylene or paper bags ranging in size from 25 to 50 kilograms, cardboard cartons containing consumer-pack quantities, liquid 20 liter pails, 6/4 liter containers, and 208 liter drums. Bulk grain and oil cargoes may be shipped such as wheat, corn, soybeans, soybean meal and vegetable oil.

Agricultural commodities for food assistance programs are shipped overseas using three shipment methods: containerized shipments, breakbulk shipments, and bulk shipments. Cargoes will be shipped port-to-port or on through bills of lading where the cargoes are transported to inland locations.

CONTRACTOR REQUIREMENTS

- 3. Technical Requirements/Tasks: The surveyor shall attend and report on all food aid deliveries made to the country covered under this contract. Once the cargo has lifted from the US port, the Government will provide the contractor a task order which will include the following information detailing the cargo to be surveyed:
  - a. Vessel
  - b. Conveyance type
  - c. Booking terms

- d. Destination
- e. Commodity
- f. Estimated time of arrival
- g. Ocean bill of lading
- h. Tonnage

Task orders will be issued electronically; however, the Government reserves the right to issue task orders orally or by facsimile if necessary. A task order will be issued for each originating vessel/voyage with the same discharge/ETA and a survey will be required of every Ocean Bill of Lading (OBL). Multiple surveys may be required per task order. A task order will contain one type of conveyance (bulk, breakbulk, or containerized) and one booking type (through bill of lading, discharge only, devan at port, etc). Price paid for each task order is based on total quantity (number of containers or MT) for entire task order.

For each ocean bill of lading, the contractor shall provide a written survey report and supporting documentation, in English or with translation, with sufficient detail and documentation so as to fix responsibility for losses occurring while cargo is under the care, custody, and control of the steamship company transporting the cargo. All portions of the report must be sent in as original documents. A copy of the report should be sent to the receiver.

The following tables describe the requirements of each shipment type.

Table 3.1 applies to all shipments.

Table 3.2 has additional requirements for containerized shipments.

Table 3.3 had additional requirements for breakbulk shipments.

Table 3.4 has additional requirements for bulk shipments.

Should the taxpayer seek tax court review, this will not be a final tax liability until the taxpayer has exercised all judicial appeal rights.
- (C) The taxpayer has entered into an installment agreement pursuant to I.R.C. §6159. The taxpayer is making timely payments and is in full compliance with the agreement terms. The taxpayer is not delinquent because the taxpayer is not currently required to make full payment.

M. Evaluation factors for award

52.212-2 EVALUATION-COMMERCIAL ITEMS. (OCT 2014)

- 1. The Government will award a contract resulting from this solicitation to the responsible offeror whose offer conforming to the solicitation will be most advantageous to the Government, price and other factors considered. The following factors shall be used to evaluate offers:
  - a. Staffing and Experience
    - i. The survey company (management) shall be experienced in performing similar survey services for humanitarian food aid or similar products. A primary point of contact, and back up, shall be provided. Provide years of experience and type of work experience for key personnel.
    - ii. Sufficient staffing shall be available to cover potential multiple and simultaneous discharge and inland delivery locations.
    - iii. Surveys shall be completed by qualified surveyors. Information on the key parties, including years of experience and type of work experience, should be included.
    - iv. Privity of Contract: As the prime contractor, the contractor is responsible for all the actions of its subcontractors. The contractor shall provide personnel to act as the single point of contact for all contractual matters arising from the contract. Any subcontractor(s) shall be identified in the offer.

b. Organization

i. The offer should include an overview on how the offeror will handle topics such as timely submission of accurate/complete survey reports, open communication lines with all other parties involved in the survey operation, responsiveness to inquiries, and proactive behavior.

c. Sample Survey Report

- i. The survey report is relevant for an agricultural product.
- ii. The sample reflects work performed for a discharge and delivery survey.
- iii. The sample survey complies with all aspects of the Statement of Work.
- iv. It is recognized that a report performed for a third party will not necessarily contain all the components listed in the Deliverables and Required Service sections listed above, but should reflect an understanding of the key factors.

d. Past Performance

- i. Past Performance shall be rated on a basis of performance, timeliness, and overall customer satisfaction on contracts of the same or similar scope, within the past three years.
- ii. In the event that no Past Performance history is provided, the offeror must provide compelling justification as to why the three references cannot be provided to meet the acceptable criteria. The Government reserves the right to contact any and all references to assess the offeror's performance and relative capability related to customer satisfaction, timeliness of performance, and commitment to customer satisfaction.

e. Price

i. Prices will be evaluated using benchmark scenarios and comparing the final costs of the simulated task order.

Technical and past performance, when combined, are more important than price. The order of importance for technical factors is as follows: Staffing and Experience, Sample Survey, Organization, and Past Performance.

- 2. Options. The Government will evaluate offers for award purposes by adding the total price for all options to the total price for the basic requirement. The Government may determine that an offer is unacceptable if the option prices are significantly unbalanced. Evaluation of options shall not obligate the Government to exercise the option(s).
- 3. A written notice of award or acceptance of an offer, mailed or otherwise furnished to the sucessful offeror within the time for acceptance specified in the offer, shall result in a binding contract without further action by either party. Before the offer's specified expiration time, the Government may accept an offer (or part of an offer), whether or not there are negotiations after its receipt, unless a written notice of withdrawal is received before award.
